DETAILED ACTION

Introduction

1. In the application filed 4/17/2006, claims 3, 7 and 12 have been cancelled. Claims 2, 4-6, 10, 11, 13-18 have been previously presented or amended, which are treated as being preliminarily amended. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, 8-11 and 13-20 are active.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1, 2, 4 and 19, drawn to an adhesive tape.

Group II, claims 5, 6, 8-11 and 13-18, drawn to a method for producing an adhesive tape.

Group III, claim 20, drawn to a film for protecting electronic parts.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The general structure of the antistatic adhesive tape in claim 1 is known art, as evidenced by Masuda [US 20020064650A1], paragraphs [0031, 0040 and 0044]. It would have been an obvious substitution to use a known alternative conductive agent to form the tape, see PCT written opinion. Claim 1 lacks novelty or inventive step, and does not make a contribution over the prior art. The unity of invention is lacking and restriction is appropriate.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Embodiments

- A. conductive layer/base film/conductive layer/adhesive layer, as set forth in claim 1;
- B. protective layer/conductive layer/base film/conductive layer/adhesive layer, as set forth in claim 4;
- C. conductive layer/base film/conductive layer/adhesive layer/release layer, as set forth in claim 19.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: claim 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each species has patentably distinct structure, and there is no evidence that they are obvious variations.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
